thirteen individuals comprising the nucleus of student government . . . deepening friendships through bonds of service, experience, and hard work . . . attempting to relate to both their contemporaries and the administration . . . thirteen individuals, each a leader, worked together to mold the traditions of East that have now subsided into memories.

Larry Richards S.A.E. President

An outstanding graduating class is leaving and new students will be coming to our halls for the first time. This happens every year at East, but only once in my life will I have been so honored as to have held the trust of President of the student body of this great school. In reflection, I have made many lasting and memorable friends and I have cherished the privilege of East. We have had our successes together in activities and we have known defeat, but in the fine tradition of East we have bounced back with renewed spirit resulting in greater victories. I hope the Alumni, the world over, will acknowledge that we have carried their torch well this year, and East's reputation continues as one of the great high schools in America. To my own graduating class, I trust this past three year experience has been an enjoyable one, and has inspired you to attain greater achievements in the years ahead. To those students returning next year, you now bear the torch of East High. Honor and respect it so that its light may keep shining brightly so that East will continue to shine out above all the rest. To my fellow officers, my sincere thanks for the unselfish gift of your time and talents in order to make this year successful. May the 1969-70 year be an enjoyable one in your memory. God bless you all.

to flow . . . wandering in and out, becoming larger, enveloping new rain, new ideas . . . churning . . .
becoming a river flowing like the wind, with birds following above . . . new tributaries of thought, new dimensions of the mind . . . the river flows straighter, but churns inside itself . . . becoming a sea; a part of all waters, a joining of all minds . . . a torrent of thought becoming lucid . . .*

A close opening game upset staged by West's Panthers started the Leopards out on the wrong paw. Bouncing back strong, Big Red romped to a convincing win over the outclassed Olympus Titans. Quarterbacks Savage and Warner delivered the ball to the elusive Stevens who meandered around and through the Olympus defense for three touchdowns. The following week a riled Highland team stunned East with a surprising first half offensive and hung on to their lead for the victory.

Scoring the first two times it had possession, the Ecide rushing machine hit full stride against South, waltzing to a nine-point halftime lead. The second half was in complete contrast as the Cubs countered with a freak eighty-eight yard run and a field goal. An untimely interception killed the Leopards last-minute drive.

Tough fullback Brooke Williams meets stiff resistance after a short gain against Olympus.

Scott Savage fights a host of Layton tacklers.

Wilkinson's long scoring jaunt and Taggart's field goal spelled victory as East dumped Viewmont in a muddy battle. Savage, Stevens, Hansen, Dibble, and Williams all hit paydirt as the Leopards unloaded their frustrations on the dazzled Bountiful Braves. East finished the season tied for third in Division Two after a final game loss at Davis.

Seven hard-earned wins in a row . . . the march to state . . . fifty-five indescribable seconds of play against Highland . . . the crushing defeat of West . . . an assembly for the Champions . . . these moments and events have made this season — this team — one Eciders will remember for many years to come.

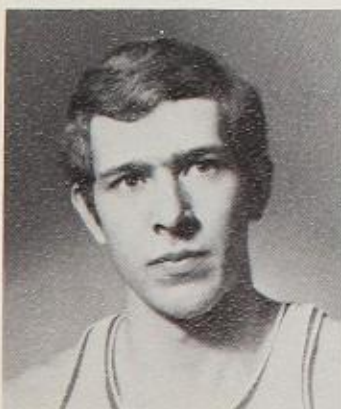

Hustle, desire, and "guts" are the words used to describe Utah's 1970 basketball champions. Led by a plentiful supply of lightning-quick, hard-driving guards and a high-scoring, versatile pivotman, the Leopards mercilessly intimidated their foes. Teamed with a deadly long-bomber, his steady, dedicated cohorts, and an equally potent reserve force, East's cage team was nearly invincible. Defense and unselfishness were the keys to their outstanding performance.

A rash of injuries hampered the Leopards in pre-season games but by no means dampened spirits for league play. Although rated as the underdog, the Leopards rallied to trim the touted Eagles and Titans before humbling Highland. South's Cubs led throughout the game before succumbing to a last-minute East rally. The inspired Leopards then slipped past West, capturing the leadership of the state's toughest division.

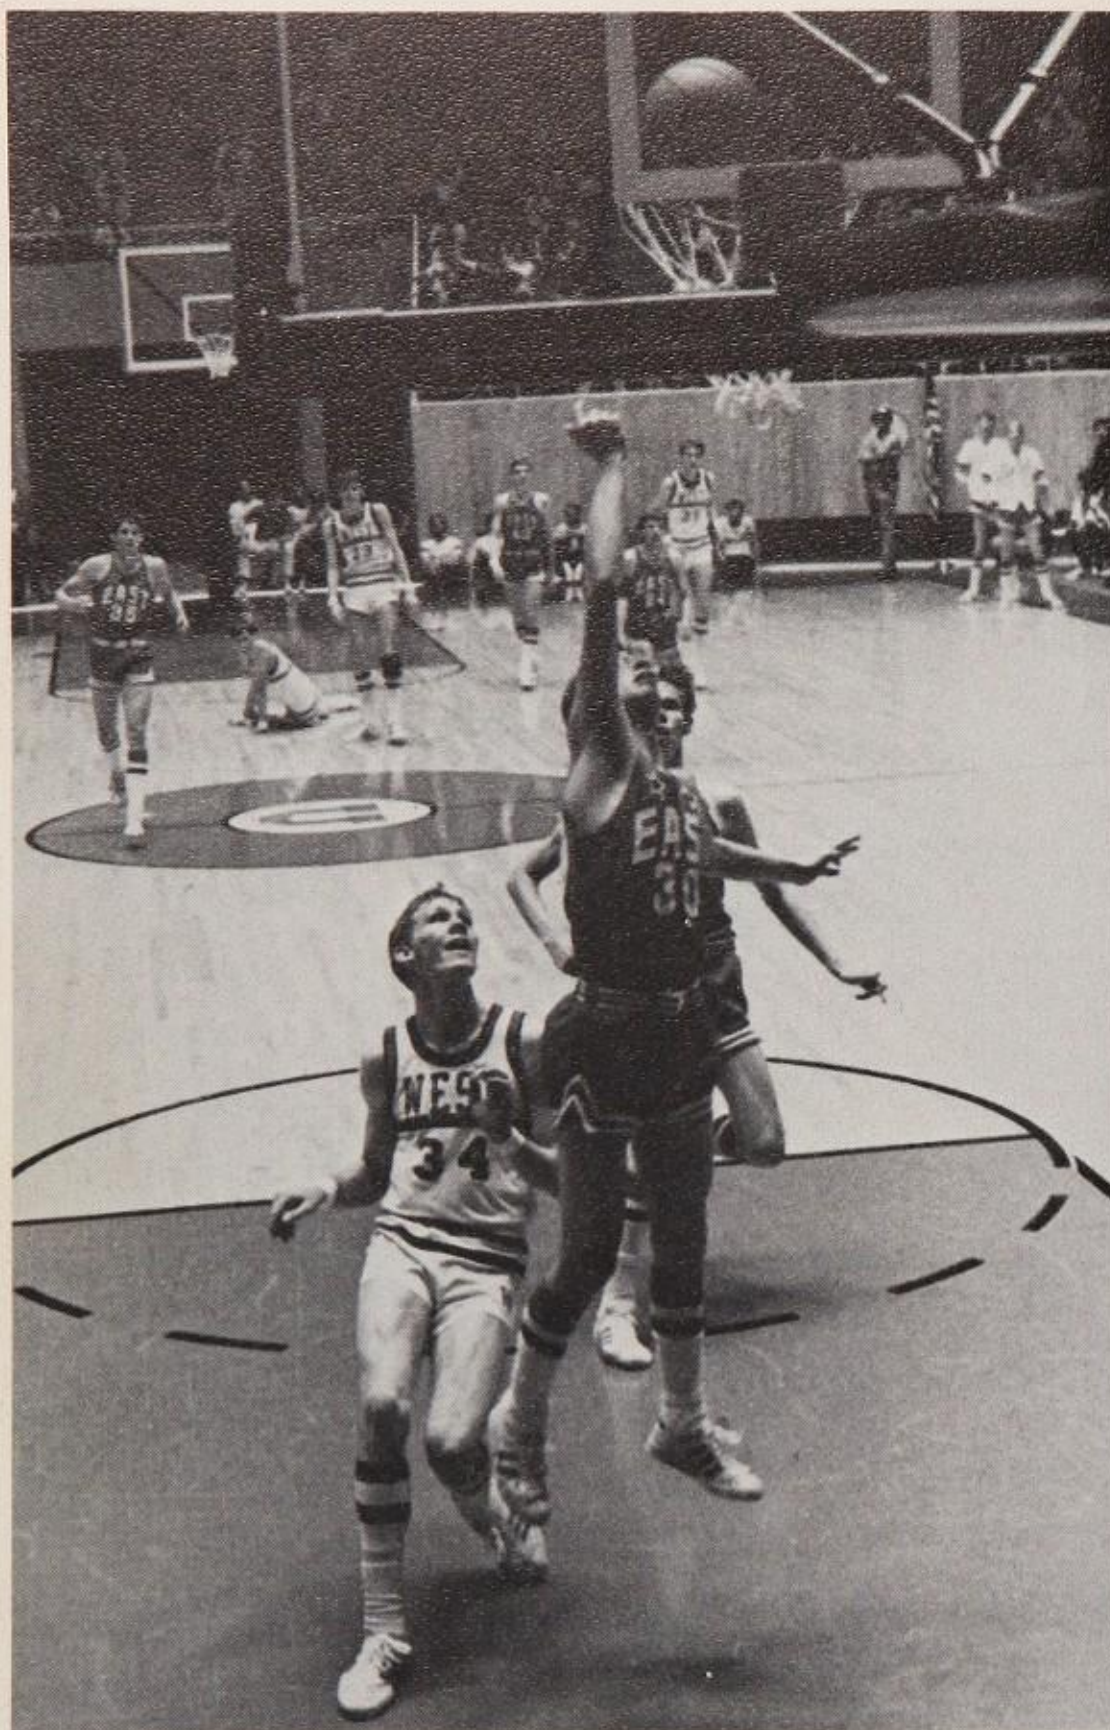

Skyline and Olympus fell again at the skilled hands of Big Red, clinching the division title for East. Frigid from the field and foul line, East fell victim to the avenging Rams. The Redmen clobbered South before dropping their final division clash with West.

Mark Warner sends a sweeping hook over the hands of a South opponent.

John Morgan stretches for a rebound.

Master ball thief, Joe Manning, steals for two more during the state final, leaving "Erick the Great" sprawling backcourt.

Managers Robin Riggs, Kim Passey, and Dave Peterson provide indispensable aid to the team. Mike McShane and Howard Rhoades keep game statistics.

Utah's awesome sports arena was the scene for East's all-important initial state test with Kearns. Overcoming early jitters, the Leopards earned a tense victory over the scrappy Cougars. Continuing its quest, Big Red used the Manning-Griffin blitz to steal a second round win over Spanish Fork's Dons.

Hysteria broke loose in the arena when East met Highland in the semifinal. With 1:10 remaining, Highland seemed secure with a 59-55 lead. But East refused to submit. At 0:55 Manning drilled the first of four timely foul pitches. Young then dropped a twenty-foot bombshell from sidcourt. Manning and Morgan teamed to complete the immortal

"8 straight" which finished the Rams.

With renewed confidence, the superb Leopards appeared right at home in their red and white confines as they ran roughshod over West in the State Final. Warner's rebounding tenacity and the ever-threatening guardline led the near-flawless final performance which captured East's second basketball championship.

Track

Sprinters, vaulters, jumpers, hurdlers, weightmen, and distance-runners all combine their skills in a unique kind of three-ring circus known as track and field. Each trackman specializes in a single event, ranging from putting the shot to pacing a mile.

Baseball

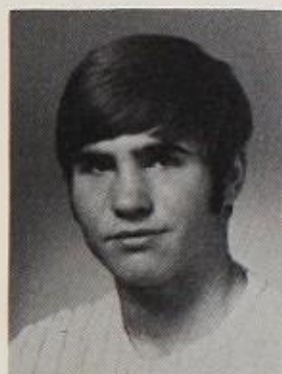

Baseball is a sport of sporadic action, demanding that every participant on the diamond always be alert and at his best. At any moment the seemingly isolated duel between pitcher and batter may erupt into a fury of action calling for the lightning-quick reactions and skillful moves which drive fans wild. With almost all of last year's superb team returned, prospects for a superior region showing were excellent.

Soccer

The world's favorite sport is also the only sport at East with a split season. In the fall, soccer squads perfect their skills in pre-season competition. The season is renewed in the spring when teams contend for region honors. East's soccer teams fought hard in this sport, known for its ruggedness and fast action.

Golf

To hit approach shots onto the green pin-high and to sink every putt within "gimmee" distance is the dream of every linkster. Occasionally, however, the "Sand-man" turns into "Bogey-man" as hooks and slices create nightmares in a golfer's game. With eagles and birdies flying, East's junior-laden golf contingent stroked and puttied their way to numerous "subpar" performances.

Tennis

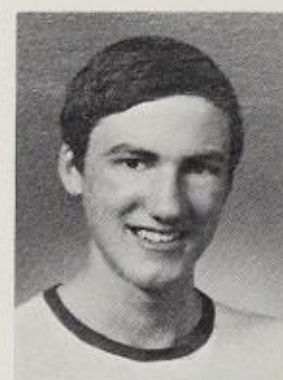

The crack of a big serve, a crisp exchange of volleys and a decisive overhead smash distinguish the action in the "gentlemen's" game. With eight skilled, returning veterans, East filed a strong bid for state net supremacy. To prove their case, East's top aces went to court and claimed verdict after verdict over tough region foes. In their first dual meet, the red netsters dumped Highland, snapping the Rams record of sixty-seven consecutive wins, initiating a great season for the Leopards.

Dedication

To those who challenged, who changed, who upheld tradition; to those who learned, served, progressed; to those who made this year unique and individual; to those who simply attended and gave East its character; to all, who through their endeavors, wove the fibers of this book, we dedicate Eastonia 1970.

Graffiti

The 1970 Eastonia was printed on Wheelwright Gloflex in Caslon 540 and Caledonia type. The 1825 likenesses of the Original were produced with black ink on white paper.

The Eastonia Staff would like to thank Mr. Joseph W. Sperry, Sponsor; Mrs. Eudora Zarr, Literary Sponsor; and Mr. Raymond Edvalson, Art Sponsor. We are indebted to Tom Smart, Richard Warner, J. B. Willis, Ann Francis and Chris Erickson for service rendered above and beyond the call of duty. The editor expresses gratitude to Richard Phillips for his shoulder to cry on. We cannot overlook the kindness of the Leopard Staff in lending us their typewriter. We also appreciate the cooperation of Z.C.M.I., Auerbachs, and Wheelwright Lithographing Company in the production of Eastonia 1970. P. S. To inform the unknowing, the Joe Gargiola Sweepstakes will be held in July. And thanks, fester.

you're very sweet & darling so therefore I hope no-one ever gets your goat!!
 (tell him "hi" for me) I hope to see you at a party or something this summer so be good.
 In the meantime: have a wicked summer!

Forever & always Connie

Dear Carolyn,
 It was so great having you in dance year. I hope you know this by now that I think are so sweet and the really times we enjoyed all together fun take care of yourself and Please change that sweet personality!
 never see you next year (maybe if I don't move!)
 your friend always,
 Laura Kennedy.

developing, following the sun. directions formed, it grows.
the trunk,
the tender stems, the buds of work — the fruit of fulfilment — so many memories it holds!
a long last look . . .
the feeling of forever.

In Memoriam

Clouds hang heavy above the plain,
They bring the smell of a summer rain,
And my heart, my heart, is heavy too,
And my spirits are heavy too.

Clouds drift low in a shadowed spell,
They bring the memory of one farewell,
When a spirit from life withdrew,
When the soul of my love withdrew.

Raindrops fall from a sodden sky,
They drum a querulous lullaby,
As in memory of one who sleeps,
As if crooning to one who sleeps.

See how the rains do pour,
As if forevermore.
As if forevermore.

Carolyn,
It's been fun
talkin' at ya in the halls with Connie Sue Maybe next year I'll get to know ya better.
Carma Anderson

Hi
RT

Carolyn,
it's been so much fun with Spanish & don't see everything. I hope I don't see you next year. I'll lose you next year. I want next year. This summer and Love,
Leanne Foulger

Carolyn, really I've really enjoyed knowing you this year. Thanks for your friendship. Hope to see you next year.
Tharon O.

Carolyn,
You have so many cute clothes. Wow!
I hope you & Rick really hit it off good. You're a darling couple. Good luck next year. Hope to see you lots.

Love ya,
Pat Owen

Carolyn,
it sure has been fun knowing you this year! Good fun with Dick and say
hi to John for me
please!
see ya,
Dorothy

Carolyn,
It was a real meeting you in type 3
Love,
Griffith Campbell

Carolyn
It was knowing me
see you,
next year.
Marguerite

Hi
RT

Carolyn, I'm so glad to met you & had your help in Spanish - without it we could have all flunked - Stay the charming girl you are Lots of luck
Jean Quidey

Hi Carolyn
I have I regret knowing you and that is I didn't know you well as I would have liked to and I'll try harder next year With regret I say
see you next year
Lots of love
Randy T.

Carolyn,
It has been so much fun
knowing you your sweet girl and you really brightened up that Spanish class. See you in class!
Kathy Andrews

after two years in carpool, I have become pretty good friends with you! We should keep in touch during the summer too!

Kathie

Carolyn for being such a nice girl to know. Keep up the good work but don't work too hard. Your friend always

Carolyn -
you're a great friend. Have a fun summer - see ya next year - MARZIA

Dear Carolyn?
you really are cute?
I'll see ya next year?
Lorraine

Carolyn,
you survived Spanish (I didn't) Come around and try again next year. Vince Sullivan

(Hasta luego)
That's all I know and it's probably wrong.

Carolyn - have a fun
but don't forget that you're a girl. You're beautiful because you are. The way you are. Love
Sally Richards
